Summary of reasons for decision:

The image file explicitly depicts child and adult characters from a well-known animated television series engaged in sexual activity. The image does not promote and support the exploitation of children or young persons under s3(2)(a) of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993, but it does deal with sexual conduct involving children, as well as incest, to a high extent and degree. It has the clear potential for attitudinal harm by perpetuating the idea that child sexual abuse is a subject of titillation and amusement. There is a strong likelihood of injury to the public good from the trivialisation of such behaviour and attitudes, which is likely to have a detrimental effect on wider society. The objectionable classification interferes with the right to freedom of expression as affirmed by the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990, but is justifiable given the high risk of injury to the public good which cannot be adequately prevented by an age restriction.
